

ALMA MATER

“Angel” by Sarah McLachlan
(Sean Banks & Mark Moulton)

Spend all our time waiting, for that bell to ring,
Now school's out and camp will begin,
There's always a reason, we find our way back,
To the place where our memories our made,
We need a distraction.....some summer relief,
A time to discover our dreams,
We know that we're happy,
Because we just maybe have found our second home,

(CHORUS)

In the arms of the summer,
We can see it so clear,
We all love one another,
And there's nothing to fear,
We will board all the buses,
We will cry all our tears
Cause in the arms of the Summer,
We have found some comfort here,

Camp seems just to make right, all the trouble life brings,
We wait for our chance to be back,
Our lives keep on twisting, and changing with time,
But camp will remain on our mind,
We know that we're happy,
Because we just maybe have found our second home,

(CHORUS)

In the arms of the summer,
We can see it so clear,
We all love one another,
And there's nothing to fear,
We will board all the buses,
We will cry all our tears,
Cause in the arms of the summer,
We have found some comfort here.....
.....We have found some comfort here!!!!
