

SUPERMAN ALMA MATER

“I’ll Be” by Edwin McCain

(Reed Lyons)

The stars in the sky that blanket those mountains
Stop us and steal our hearts
And tucked in these woods lies a magical place
That captured us right from the start

(CHORUS)

And tell me its here we belong
The driving force that pulls us along
You gave us the tools to go out and replace
The faults in this world with the smiles you see on our face
And Slipper, our guiding spirit
Slipper, our second home
Slipper, looking back when we’re older
We’ll see the greatest times of our lives

In winter, anxious from the memories
That keep us awake in our beds
They’re our survival, they’re our lasting proof
That camp is alive in our heads

CHORUS

We’ll see the greatest times of our whooooooole lives
